A message from key school bodies

Chairman Report

2016 was a positive year for JVS as the school strengthened its position as Sydney's newest independent Autism Spectrum Disorder (ASD) specific school.

This year we welcomed the valuable addition of Illana Joseph as a new Director to our Board. Illana has a vast leadership experience in the field of Early Learning and her expertise and insight has been appreciated at Board meetings.

The hard work and dedication of our staff has led to student improvements we are all proud of. In particular, I would like to highlight the successful transition of two long-standing JVS students back to mainstream settings. We are proud of our 'family feel' environment and the benefits our unique and highly supportive approach is providing to children who had previously been at risk with their schooling.

The school's financial position improved again in 2016 and this allows us to provide more benefits to our students and plan for the future.

I would like to thank our Directors and JVS staff who worked with dedication to provide a quality positive learning experience for our students and families.

Yours Sincerely

Raymond Collins
Chairperson

Contextual information about the school

The Joseph Varga School (JVS) is a registered special education school, which caters specifically for children with a diagnosis of an Autism Spectrum Disorder (ASD).

JVS provides a welcoming, accepting, safe and supporting environment that has a 'family feel'. Many children who have previously 'fallen through the gaps' of mainstream schooling have excelled in the environment unique to our little school.

We are committed to understanding, as individuals, the children in our care and positively guiding each one of them to become self aware and self disciplined members of society. Our approach is to comprehensively understand the needs of each child and tailor a program that best caters for and supports the child's educational and emotional development.

With dedicated teachers, specialist support, ongoing assessment, state of the art technology and a positive approach to personal development, our school is well equipped to support our students.

Further information regarding the history and context of the school can be found at:

Student outcomes in standardised national literacy and numeracy testing

The school participates in the National Assessment Program Literacy and Numeracy (NAPLAN).

As the majority of our students have learning and emotional needs which result in significant delays in their learning and achievement, NAPLAN testing can be a challenging experience for our students and in some instances students are granted an exemption from participation.

The consequent results do however supply JVS with valuable information on which to base short/long term planning and programming to meet student needs.

School satisfaction information
All schools are required to report on parent, teacher and student satisfaction in their annual reports. In 2012, nationally consistent school opinion survey items were agreed by education ministers for parents and students (known as the National School Opinion Survey). A survey and data collection tool that can collect responses to the National School Opinion Survey was made available for all schools to use in August 2013. Schools can use the national parent and student survey items to report on school satisfaction in their annual reports. See the school annual report for information on parent, teacher and student satisfaction.
For further information about the National School Opinion Survey, see School opinion information on the ACARA website.

The granting of Records of School Achievement (ROSA) and results of the Higher School Certificate

As a small ASD school student enrolment and participation in Year 10 secondary education fluctuates from year to year. In 2016 no students received a Record of School Achievement (ROSA).

Post school destinations (secondary schools only)

Our students receive a solid education in a caring Special Education environment as they work towards reintegration with the mainstream.

We do not hold students back when they are mainstream ready. In 2016 we oversaw the successful transition of two long-standing JVS students back to mainstream settings.

Characteristics of the student body, attendance rates for each Year level and the whole school and a description of how the school manages student non-attendance.

As an ASD Special Education provider all students who attended the school in 2016 were diagnosed with Autism Spectrum Disorder (other diagnosis may also be evident). With the support of the Assisted School Travel Program the school is able to accept enrolments from all over Sydney.

Student attendance is recorded daily and non - attendance is followed up at 9:30am in every instance unless a parent advises the reason.

Parent meetings are held to resolve and support any issues of ongoing unexplained non-attendance.

Mandatory reporting procedures apply where absences are extended or the student may be at risk.

The average student attendance per grade in 2016 was: -

Kindy: NA

Year One: 98.3%

Year Two: 98.4%

Year Three: 97.5%

Year Four: 88.5%

Year Five: 90.4%

Year Six: 97.9%

Year Seven: 96.8%

Year Eight: 98.5%

Year Nine: 92.6%

Year Ten: 89.4%

Initiatives promoting respect and responsibility

The 'Promise to Improvement' is a commitment made by each student to make a personal effort to have a positive attitude, to show respect to themselves and others, and to take ownership and be accountable for their actions.

The 'promise' is matched by a commitment made by the school and parents to understand and support the child in these endeavors.

The 'Promise' is our contract with each child, the foundation on which behavioural, social, emotional and academic improvement rests.

Parents, student and teacher satisfaction

The school values highly the importance of regularly reviewing approval and satisfaction levels. The school conducts termly parent and teacher meetings where feedback is sought by parents set to specific criteria. The school also provides open parent meetings and conducts formal meetings with staff in which feedback for review is sought.

Feedback gathered indicated that the parents, staff and students of JVS greatly value the care and service provided by the school.
